Junior Full-Stack Developer with hands-on experience in various aspects of web development. Proficient in creating and managing API connections, implementing responsive design principles, optimizing for SEO, leveraging Open-Graph protocols, and automating email processes.

My analytical and critical thinking, combined with my sharp perception and natural empathy, allow me to devise effective solutions, understand complex challenges, and connect with others on a deeper level. This holistic approach enables me to address problems creatively and collaboratively, driving both personal and professional growth.

What motivates me the most is:

Build solutions that brings real value to people/businesses.

Who I am beyond being a developer:

An enthusiastic guy who enjoys creating meaningful connections with others, encouraging and leading them towards growth, and learning from their life experiences.
